

Appendix 13

Ownership vs Possession

So, what exactly is ownership? Who or what owns what? What's the nature of the concept: ownership? Where does this word come from, to own? What does legalese and the occult meaning of words teach us? "ownership"

-To own a ship - to own a sheep.

-Who is it that owns,,, -When I'm on my own?

-I own myself. Ohh... really?

Let us see what's in the BLD: Blacks Law Dictionary; Ed-11:

Own: "To rightfully have or possess as property; to have legal title to".

But, we know that this thing with "legal title" is fictitious, right? It is all back to the fictitious persona the artificial person again, right?

There is a deception going on here,,, isn't there? The legal world, the fictitious fantasy realm tries to connect the term of possessing property to be equal to ownership (own a sheep). It is a tricky task to see through with clear view, with "real-eyes" to "realize" this: "double loop where the energy point's in two directions"

Så what does fit in that description? ,, The loop, double directions, the tounge of the snake, the double meaning, the legalese? Yes... its a trap.

And, we walk into it again and again all the time, on our "own". Don't we? ,, And it is all done voluntarily, by myself giving authority to that owner-ship (owner-sheep). And it all end's up in myself (spirit) being tied up deeper and deeper in matrix, the singularity of low vibrationes where I get what I deserve all the time - as I bond myself in time because I want more of that all.

Yes,,, what we examine here is of cause the Ego. The Ego always want to look after its "own". And as you can see ,, and as you know,,, the Ego is a construct that is separated from spirit. To move deeper into this we do need to check of what the esoteric viewpoint have to contribute with. By the way, the Indians of Navajo and Hopi do not even have a word for "owning".

An Esoteric view

Just like an onion has many peels, the deception in matrix - the singularity, has a similar character of getting deeper again, again and again to entrap and to enslave.

Let start from the issue of the fictitious persona , to be the greatest trick of this age, an age of modern slave-society. Let this fictitious legal jurisdiction with the fraudulent concept of the fictitious persona, be the first peel of several to examine.

- Legal fiction.

So, when that birth, that event, all its information - data is collected and a "mask" is created by legal fiction, which you are expected to where as long as you'll be present.

That mask is a bond and an account where transactions of economical character are book-keeping, debt's created, which are expected to be your responsibility. The value, the guarantee of it is your-self. While participating creating events of economy you actually incorporate matrix with life. "Yourself" "giving" "birth" to the dead entity the fictitious persona by participating, inter-"act" in this fictitious theater.

But, "yourself" have a choice. By not participating, by not acting, by not consent, by realize with real eyes, by being aware, by being awake, the fiction diminishes and dissolves.

By making the claim of "yourself" its Nature :Live-life-claim... the true fact, affidavit, awake yourself to activate and to continue the journey towards self-awareness which rebuts consent to the fictitious legal fraud.

So, we can detect and see there is a separation between the fictitious persona with its foundation in the legal system and the instrument, the body of flesh and blood which breath and is possessed by "yourself", as a lawful living piece of Nature.

This ability to see, the insight, the real eyes view comes from the ability by being self-aware.

- The body of flesh and blood.

All of us who possess such body, an instrument of DNA- program, that breath and have heartbeat, appeal to it to be real, reality and life. Don't we?

And we claim it to be reality as we from this viewpoint possessed now, from this state of awareness, this level of vibration have the ability to separate truth from the fictitious persona. This is something that we already have cleared up now... Right?

From the Vatican statutes:

Article-29 True Person: Canon-1597:

"Any Live birth record within an inferior Roman system which issues a unique number for the flesh of a baby may also be taken as proof of the existing of a true trust and the inferiority of an Inferior Roman person as proof of the existing flesh is proof of the existence of the Devine Immortal Spirit".

So, what do we have here? The Canon law of Vatican statutes that the living body of flesh and blood that breath is possessed with spirit because there can be no such without it. This indicates that this peel of flesh and body have another peel namely the separation of the body and spirit... Right?

When OBE, out of body experience, occur it becomes a reality. In meditation let consciousness observe, while the body, the instrument breathing, continuously respiring, with its rhythm, without interference, it'll respire without my-self participating, without my consciousness. Let the body do what the body can do. Let everything that is just be what it is. The body of flesh and blood just do what it supposed to do while my-self no-more interact. The experience of separation from body become a new peel, one more separation from the fictitious, the un-real to a more awakened reality. The body do breath, but I don't, because I do not need. I do not need oxygen while not interacting with the instrument, the body. It is only the body that need that.

The full OBE, out of body experience, the Astral projection or whatever we entitle this state of awareness, is a more aware reality, which is clearer, and the limitation of the body senses is replaced with a higher awareness of it all.

This is not a state of lucid dreams. This is a state of more reality than while possessing the "bodyawareness".

There are already many explanatory models for this and the opportunity to delve deeper into the subject, put it into practice and gain your own experiences and insights.

What is important to demonstrate with this narrative form and with this subject is that the separation occur between our natural self and the body being claimed as true fact.

"Ashes to ashes and dust to dust."

And on and on it goes, the reincarnation-cycle, is it natural? Or is it unnatural? Is it artificial? How can we know? Is it a trap? The answer is within. This event with "the tunnel of light" occurs while leaving our body permanently when our Nature is transforming and the body decays, you can say. It appear and it does that urgently, doesn't it?

Our Nature is eternal, and there is nothing urgent in ourview of appearance... is there?

So, by agreeing to something by free will, by consent to the offer of a new contract we end up in "the bag of the dust-cleaner" once again to be recycled with, formatted memory. ...Or?

- Might there be several layers to peel?

What is mind, that thought-engine in the head with its always ongoing fantasizing, participating and analyzing all activities, which never seem to end?

In ancient Egyptian lore and mythology, thought was considered one of the six senses. Its esoteric school taught that thought can be stilled and separated from consciousness into an observing state of the stillness of thought, like a pond which mirroring total absence of movement. In stillness the presence of awareness arise, the awareness in Nature Is what it is... I Am.

Somehow, that lead us to the conclusion that thought and what refere to as mind is not spiritual nature.

Yes, a construct very much connected with the instrument, body to appear. It belongs to the artificial matrix... Or?

How about the Ego then? Is that our Nature? Is that a spiritual item in its nature? ... Or is it just an artificial construct serving to bond us as deep as possible in the matrix, always turning our perception in that direction, the outer?

And what about the witness? The item recording our life so when transforming-dying the life playback in whole... to be stored in the Akashna records? Is this real? Is it our nature or is it an artificial construct in matrix?

Whenever spirit by free will consent to, and appearance with its presence in matrix occur, there is needed an anchor to joiner the divine, eternal, infinite nature to the artificial creation, the matrix. That artificial entity that can connect and bind is the construct of soul to which other items belonging in matrix are connected as well such as the witness, Ego etc,.. Or? -How is it done then?

Anyway, if it is hard to follow this pattern, it'll all be revealed in time. If you like, you can make an experiment and examine with yourself, your spiritual Nature.

Tell yourself: - I Am.

And consciousness automatically apply perception inwards. Your awareness Is the answer.

Tell yourself: - I Am a soul.

And you'll instantly just know that it is not truth. ... Or? Your awareness Is the answer.

So, "Creator" creates creation, the artificial trap-matrix. Whatever item's there are in this construct, they belong to matrix and its programmer, don't they? Something want us to participate by free will and guard it to be that way. This narrative comes in many shapes. AI, Constructed guardians such as daemons or Seraphim-er Angels of death? How can we know? The antilife,,, the artificial Saturn system that always seeks to trap our perception, trapping us to participate by free will. The vibration of distortion serving to keep us in low frequency mode, while the antilife copy life, to its right-angled, cubist orthogonal slave-system of Saturn.

Anyway...

Now, back to the beginning, about ownership. Who Am I, the divine spirit eternal and infinite in my nature,,, To make claim to "own" fictitious items in this matrix? ... Really?

I Am spirit and whatever I possess I am present into and I am infinite Nature in all parts, units and common, bringing goodness into it all in which I am present because...

... I Am
